MORE RELIGION IN SCHOOLS.

BISHOP GREER'S PLEA AT THE DIOCESAN CONVENTION.

At His Suggestion Plans Are Set on Foot to Help Sailors and Immigrants -Diocese to Have a Seal-Resolutions Based on Insurance Expose Ignored.

The necessity of some sort of religious teaching in the public schools was emphasized by Bishop-Coadjutor Greer in his address to the annual convention of the diocese of New York at the second day's session in the synod hall of the Cathedral House of St. John the Divine. Touching indirectly upon insurance and other graft, the Bishop declared that the Church's business is inadequately attended to.

This business, he said, covers instruction for thousands of immigrants, negroes, and in general the mass of mankind. Bishop Greer read his address at the morning session. Later in the day there was discussion of some of its points, and suggestions were made toward action for the care of immigrants entering the port of New York. In part the Bishop said:

There is, I presume, no other country in the world where the general average of intelligence is so high as it is in this country. but is the moral progress of the people of this country keeping pace with their intellectual progress, their ethical advancement with their mental advancement their conscience with their intelligence? l am not an alarmist nor a pessimist, and while recognizing the existence of the tares of evil in our social life I recognize the further fact that the wheat is growing with them, and that the same society in which these evils grow will in time destroy them or at all events abate them. But how is that to be done? Can it be done by the State through her public schools?

"Something else is needed than the training, which is furnished by a secular education, not to take the place of it, not to infringe upon it. but to supplement and enforce it, the training which is furnished by a secular education with the training which is furnished by a moral education. And moral education: how shall that be given? It cannot be given effectively, permanently and substantially by secular

"How then shall help be given; and who shall give it—that needed religious training? Well, that is what the Christian Church in Well, that is what the Christian Church in for, that is her distinctive office and task. Not by usurping the place of the schools, and certainly not by criticizing them for leaving undone what they are not intended to do, but rather by an active, earnest and vigorous cooperation with them along her own legitimate and proper lines of work, and in that manner helping the schools, they in their way and she in hers, to meet and solve more fully some of our important and importunate social problems.

"We are hearing much to-day of the need of political reformation and social reforma-tion, and doubtless they are needed. But political reformation and social reformapolitical reformation and social reforma-tion must in their last analysis rest on moral reformation. The only effective way in which to make good citizens is by making first good men, and that must be and is the work of the Christian Church. That is now the task to which the Church is sum-moned, to which she now is challenged. Let us in this great diocese, with its great possibilities, take it up and meet it, hope-fully, bravely and unitedly."

This was done, amid laughter, and business of the convention of 1904 done under the presidency of Bishop Greer was also approved.

among the delegates:

Whereas the members of this convention are aware of many of the difficulties which surround a business man's career and are sympathetically mindful of the Apostle's affectionate and solemn warning against the haste to be rich which often leads men into a snare, and drowns souls in perdition,

Resolved, That the Church of the Living God stands for righteousness and, therefore, this convention cannot afford to pass unnoticed the revelations being made in the daily newspapers, beneath its eyes, of tampering with trust funds by men in high positions of privilege and confidence in the business world; constituting a most discouraging evidence of moral laxity and bad example among those from whom the Church and nation have a right to expect better things.

Resolved, That this convention proclaims anew that word of God, which says, "It is required of a steward that he be found faithful."

Resolved, That no talent for high finance.

Resolved. That no talent for high finance, no useful service to the community, no benefaction to the Church or to objects of philanthropy can excuse or atone for derelictions in trust, contempt for the rights of others or disregard for the rules of common honesty. Resolved. That commerce languishes in the degree and dies to the extent that men cannot trust one another; and that this convention commends to the members of this Church and their associates in business the exercise of that exact and scrupulous fidelity in business, which is not only the essential foundation of prosperity in every community, but also a requirement for the favor and benediction of Almighty God, and will be vindicated and rewarded surely in the due operation of His natural and irresistible laws. Resolved. That no talent for high finance,

"If I may I should like to add a word to "Now, now, my brother," interrupted Bishop Potter, "let me be paternal. These things you condemn are still in transitude. They are still being tried. Wait. Is there a second to the gentleman's resolutions?"

No second was offered. The Rev. Mr. Chew finally subsided.

YALE'S FIGURES BIGGER. Has 3,309 Students-Dean Rogers Raps

Bad Lawyers. NEW HAVEN, Sept. 28 .- Yale opened its 205th year to-day with the largest number of students in its history. According to unofficial figures the university will have about 3,300 students this year, exclusive of the summer school and teachers' courses, against 2,992 for last year. All the departments of the university, it was said, showed increases in every class, the Sheffield Scienfreshman class. At the opening of the Yale Law School this afternoon, Dean Henry Wade Rogers of the school told the students that the law profession was crowded at the bottom. He stated that the country was overrun with dishonest and ignorant lawyers, masquerading as professional men and earning the salaries of bricklayers. According to the dean he would prefer to be a good bricklayer rather than a poor and dishonest lawyer.

ARREST ENDS HONEYMOON.

Rude Police Drag Bridegroom Away on a

Charge of Bigamy. NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Sept. 28.-While on his honeymoon George MacWilliams, a New York contractor, was arrested in New Rochelle this afternoon on a charge of bigamy. The arrest was made by Detectives Lodge and Scott on a warrant sworn out by MacWilliams's first wife, who is out by MacWilliams's first wife, who is living with her father, David B. Clark, at 120 East 128th street, Manhattan. Mrs. MacWilliams alleges that her husband deserted her and her two children two weeks ago. He was married four days ago at a Baptist church in New York to Clara Artlyng, a nineteen-year-old girl of New Rochelle. MacWilliams is 41 years old. He and his bride were stopping with her people at 441 Main street when he was arrested. The police say that MacWilliams's picture is in the rogues' gallery and that they have information which leads them to believe that this is his third marriage.

VISIT CITY AFTER 72 YEARS. The Last Time Dubois and His Wife Were Here Was in 1888.

YONKERS, N. Y., Sept. 28.-Mr. and Mrs. Warren Dubois of Montrose, near Peekskill, have just returned to their home after a visit to New York. It was the first time either of them had been away from nome in 72 years. In June, 1833, theyas boy and girl visited New York with their parents, making the trip by boat down one day and back the next. It was Barry Schenck of this city who induced them to come to Yonkers and then go on to New York. Mr. Dubois is 88 years of age and his wife is 84. On the trip to Yonkers, by the Central Hudson road, she was afraid that the engineer would forget to stop at Yonkers, and asked the conductor for a receipt for her ticket.

SENATOR GORMAN'S PROMISE. Tree Maryland From Negro Domination and I'll Seek Office No More."

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28.-Senator Gorman funished the climax to one of the most enthusiastic Democratic conventions ever held in this State when, in a speech just before adjournment this afternoon, he replied to the charges made by the Republicars that the proposed Constitutional disfranchising amendment was intended to benefit him by enabling the Democratic He asserted he had always been consistent in fighting against negro supremacy in the South and that he now sought to lift the pall from Maryland without any hope of reward. In concluding his speech he said that if the amendment was adopted in November, he would agree never again to seek office, but if, through a combination of Republicans and disaffected Democrats and mugwumps, it should be defeated; he was still a solder and would continue to fight until the white people of Maryland were freed from negro domination. in fighting against negro supremacy in the

This declaration was received with unbounded enthusiasm, the delegates applauding again and again. It meant practically that if the amendment was adopted Senator Gorman would not seek a reelection, but if it failed he would again endeavor to suc-

All of the other speakers dwelt upon the importance of disfranchising the negro, and several of them made some flings at Gov. Warfield, who is opposing the amend-ment and who held aloof from the conven-

HERO COMMUTER DEAD.

Thomas O. Bullock Waged a Mighty War With the D., L. & W. Railroad.

Thomas O. Bullock, the best known citizen of Succasunna, N. J., is dead. He brought fame to the town and himself. He was a rice merchant of this city and early in 1896 he became the hero of the Jersey commuters of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad. Every commuter always goes home package laden, and when Bullock began his celebrated fight many of the Delaware and Lackawanna's patrons were carrying packages that ought to have ridden in the express car. The express company saw it was losing trade and complained to the railroad. The result was that the railroad issued an order that all pack-the railroad issued an order that all packages would have to be carried in the express car.

The commuters howled but did nothing until Bullock announced that he would champion their cause. Then came the day when he entered a train with two large packages. He was ordered to take them to the express car. He refused. There was a struggle between him and the conductor and the packages were taken from him and put in the express car. Bullock refused to take the packages from that car. He showed he meant business when he He showed he meant business when he brought suit against the railroad for $25,000

The suit was tried in the Morris County Court and Bullock was the victor, the jury giving him $1 for the coat that was torn in the struggle, $5 for his greeries and $1,000 for his damaged feelings. The railroad appealed and had the verdict set aside. When the Supreme Court of New Jersey set aside the verdict it also declared that packages of greeries were not personal baggage.

Bullock had several other tiffs with the railroad about the stopping of trains. He made the railroad take water several times. Bullock also had other troubles. In 1897 his wife was arrested on a charge of assault and driven five miles to Dover in the middle of winter in her nightdress. Later Bullock had his coachman arrested for being too friendly with Mrs. Bullock.

NO LETUP ON LAND GRABBERS

GOVERNMENT TO PROSECUTE TO THE END OF THE CHAPTER.

We Are Only Beginning Our War on This Class of Criminals," Says Secretary Hitchcock—All but One of Oregon's Delegation in Congress Indicted.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 .- Secretary Hitchtific School making the largest gain in its cock was very frank to-day in expressing his gratification at the outcome of the land fraud cases against Representative Williamson, Dr. Gessner and Marion Biggs, who were convicted at Portland, Ore., last night, after two previous trials had resulted in failures of the jury to agree.

"The reports that the Government would have abandoned the case against Congressman Williamson and the other alleged conspirators had this trial resulted in a disagreement is not correct," said Secretary Hitchcock. "The Government is in earnest in this matter, and we would have asked for a fourth trial, a fifth, a sixth, and so on to the end of the chapter. I do not know what the disposition of the court will be in the matter of imposing sentence. It is not for me to suggest. But I hope that it will happen that a full measure of justice will be meted out in these cases. I hope that they will be given the limit of the law. Whenever a little fellow who is hungry or in need is convicted of a crime no mercy is shown him. I don't know why any mercy should be shown public officers who wilfully and knowingly violate a public trust. These men did these things with their eyes open. The crime was premeditated. They went about the work of enriching themselves deliberately at the expense of their offices, and their conduct is a disgrace.' "Is this the end of the conspiracy cases?

he was asked. "It is the end of this one, but we are only beginning our war on this class of criminals. Our agents are at work and investigation is going forward all the time. We have a lot of cases in Idaho. I have reason to believe that the extent of this offending has been very great, and we intend to follow the investigation, no matter whom it strikes, until we have developed everything that savors of a violation of the law."

Secretary Hitchcock expressed the opinion that the people generally indorsed the stand which the Administration had taken in regard to hunting down all species of official dereliction and crime.

"Some of these men in official position who have been convicted," he said, "complain that their salaries are too low and try to excuse themselves on that ground. If official salaries are too low they ought to be increased. It is more honorable to increase official salaries than to try to make up the deficit by crime."

Secretary Hitchcock complained very pitterly about the difficulties that had been placed in the way of the Government cases. Every obstacle possible, he de-clared, was being interposed to block the Government in its prosecutions, but he was very emphatic in his statement that there would be no relaxation of effort to bring all offenders to justice, no matter what their station in life might be.

He intimated that the next land conspiracy case to probably receive the attention of the Government would be that of W. N. Jones, a big lumberman of Portland, and after that had been disposed of the cases against Representative Binger Hermann of Oregon, ex-Commissioner of the General Land Office, who was indicted in Oregon and also in the District of Columbia for offenses alleged to have been committed while he was Commissioner of the General Land Office, will follow.

The conviction of Representative William-

The conviction of Representative Williamson is the second secured against a member of the Oregon delegation in Congress. Originally indictments were returned against Senator Mitchell and Representatives Hermann and Williamson. This left only one member of the delegation in Congress, Senator Fulton, who has not been indicted. Since the first of January he has been practically the entire Oregon delegation in Congress for the others were effect barred from the Department, and became a rather gruesome joke around e Senate to address Senator Fulton as the Senate to address Senator Fulton as the delegation from Oregon. Senator Mitchell's case is now before the United States Supreme Court on a petition for a writ of error. It is under-stood that ex-Senator Thurston, attorney for Senator Mitchell, will not ask that it be taken up out of its usual course, and unless the Government makes a motion to advance the case on the docket it will probably not be heard for more than a year hence. This would carry the case up to a point near the expiration of Senator Mitchell's term as Senator.

IN THE FOOTBALL WORLD.

Quantity, Not Quality, in Evidence at Columbia-Practise of Other Teams.

The element of greenness that has been squad was displayed more prominently yesterday in the workout at Williamsbridge. There were thirty-nine men out, offering a chance for the stiffest scrimmaging work that has been possible thus far. Three elevens were made up, and with Morley taking the varsity, Wright the scrub and Smith the third eleven, the signal practise was gone through with. Then the first and second elevens got together in scrimmage. The varsity scored twice, after spirited and snappy scrapping for every bit of ground. But it was not only early season football. It was ignorant football, and it is discouraging indeed, the coaches say, to have to take a big man who looks as if he ought to be able to eat up an ordinary man and have him outplayed know the game.

Pennington, N. J., Sept. 29.—From the time of the opening of school this year to the present time Coach G. P. Orton formerly of Vermoni University has been thoroughly drilling the candidates who are trying for positions on the seminary football team, and they are rounding into shape very fast. Although the material is not weighty, yet the candidates are very fleet. Capt. Fees is well pleased with the splendid showing they are making, and thinks he will turn out a winning team. The players from last year are Van Hook, Seebeck, Judd, Moore, Harker, Steelman, Breugle, Mason and Boyd. The most promising candidates of new material are Feigenbam, Harbison, Wright, Weedland, Vanaman, Bullock, and Rumford. Manager J. W. Mace has arranging eight games, and only two are with easy teams. The schedule:
October 4. Pennington Seminary and Trenton Wright had a private instruction class composed of Davis, Von Saltiza, Naething, Palliser, Brown, Fowler and Thorp. The first four were drilled in defensive and attack play for tackles and guards. Tom Reilly helped occasionally. Davis and Naething were strong enough, but could not handle themselves. Von Saltza did only fairly well, although more experienced than the others In the scrimmaging Echeverria held Davis although the latter is much the stronger Armstrong, left halfback on the scrub, in defensive play. He covered both sides the nne and nearly killed Fisher with a spiendid tackle in open field. easy teams. The schedule:
October 4, Pennington Seminary and Trenton
High School, at Pennington; October 14, Pennington
Seminary and Biair Hall, at Blairstown; October 21,
Pennington Seminary and Bordentown Milliary
Institute, at Pennington; October 28, Pennington

Institute, at Hackettstown. Ryan and Ross, the heavyweight line players, are out of the game for a while.

players, are out of the game for a while. Both are having trouble with their legs. Ryan has a wrenched ankle, while Ross has a twisted leg. They will not play in the opening game to-morrow. The lineup for this game has not yet been decided and cannot well be until the eligibility blanks of the candidates have been returned to the manager of the team.

There were several new men out yesterday. Dawson, a freshman, was tried as halfback on the scrub. He has some ability as a quarterback. Hoskins, a tall, thin chap from a Cleveland school, did good punting. Kingsland of the 'os class team and Wadelton of the 'os class team and Wadelton of the 'os class eleven reported, as did Harry McLean, a strapping big freshman from Newburgh Academy.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 28.-With Capt. Shevlin New HAVEN, Sept. 28.—With Capt. Sneviin not in the game and Overall of the college team taking his place, the varsity did not make a brilliant showing in the practise scrimmage against the college eleven this afternoon. Foster Bockwell was conching the college are doing better work than ever. Doud Hall and Ellicott, all first class men, have been injured and will be out of the game for some weeks, this being a discouraging feature, though it gives the new material a better chance. Coach Bull is well satisfied with the outlook.

eleven, and managed to get so much ginger in their playing that the varsity was held at several points. The varsity managed only once in the afternoon to get the ball on the college one yard line, after starting off at the 25 yard line, and the college then kicked to safety. Morse was downed with the ball on the 35 yard line, but Hutchinson carried the ball around the college gight end to the 5 yard mark. Again the varsity players lost a chance for a touchdown, for in four downs they falled to make gains, and, the college getting the ball, Bines sent it back ten yards, when the ceaches called time. Walter Camp, Yale's chief advisory coach, was out for the first time this season, and he and ex-Captain Frank Hinkey kept tabs on the players from the side lines, but neither did any coaching. Burr Chamberlain assisted Owsley, Bloomer and Rockwell with the coaching. John Quill, fullback during the early part of last season, was out to-day for the first time, but did not get into the game. As yet no freshman material has developed, although with the opening of the university to-day it was expected that the freshman class would contain three or four heavy men who might develop into stars. Yale's coaches will this week issue the first formal call for fresh material, when the squad is expected to be increased by twenty-five. ITHACA, Sept. 28.—The Cornell varsity eleven was changed by Coach Warner this afternoon in preparation for the Colgate game on Saturday. Capt. Costello has been moved from quarterback to center. Thompson and O'Rourke have replaced Dann and Downs at guards and Schildmiller has taken Babcock's place at left end. A hot scrimmage of twenty minutes was held in which the scrubs scored one touchdown on the varsity. 228 West 72d St., New York, west 72G St., New York, is ideal and exceptional as a boarding and day school for bright boys that wish to enter college early, or for boys that have never been taught to study properly and need to be TREATED INDIVIDUALLY. Best of teachers in every department.

Finest athletic field and in the heart of city, few minutes' walk from school. Swimming pool gymaddum, fencing, bowling, billiards, ice skating rink, entire school year. One rate includes all. New York University's varsity football team lined up against the scrub for the first time on Ohio Field yesterday for a short period of ten minutes, but neither side scored. The varsity easily outplayed the scrub, but the work of the line men was very ragged. The coaches paid special attention to line work and believe that in spite of the poor work done yesterday they can round the big men into good shape before the team meets Lehigh on Ohio Field, on October 7.

Four men are fighting hard for the end positions. They are Howard Wylie and Jap Connell, both '06 men and last year's varsity ends: W. Z. Blake, '07, and A. D. Rust, '09. Blake and Rust are playing snappy ball, but the two veterans will probably make the positions as regular players.

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 28.—The Tigers had a short practise to-day in view of the hard work of yesterday's game. The regular players were on the gridiron only a short time, and the practise was largely devoted to instructing the freshmen candidates in the fine points of the game. O'Brien, who was end on the Exeter team last year, was tried at end to-day, and greatly pleased the coaches with his speed. He was captain of the Exeter track team and a fast quarter mile runner. The speed he developed on the track now comes in well on the gridiron. Fryer, the Hill School freshman, was at the other end of the line. He is much heavier than O'Brien, who weighs about 150 pounds, but is not nearly so fast. Fryer guards his end well and is a fierce tackier. Tanney, the regular varsity quarter, has been set to practising drop kicking, which he does only passably well. Dutcher, the center who was slightly injured in Tuesday's practise, is not out yet, and Brown, substitute tackie, is laid up with a badly wenched shoulder. Clason Point Military Academy. Schenectary, Sept. 28.—Coach Cronkhite has put the Union varsity eleven through the hardest kind of practise every day this week, preparatory to the game with Columbia next Saturday at American League Park. As a result of the training table, which was started last week, the men are rounding into condition and nothing has occurred to mar the bright prospects. The process of elimination has been going on steadily to pick out the strongest men for the various positions. Merrill, the big freshman, will strengthen the line considerably. The line will average about 177 and the backs about 160. While this is light, it is heavier than the team which Columbia with difficulty defeated last year by the small score of 10 to 0. The team is much faster than the team which met Columbia last year. In the lineup against the second teams the last few days the varsity has shown great speed and many nice end runs have been made. The team which has been tentatively selected for Saturday is as follows: Davis and Shuttler, ends: Nutt. center; Merrill and Von Donnenberg, guards; Capt. Dann and Lent, tackles; Harvey and Moore, halfbacks; McNabb, quarterback, and Avery or Wright, fullback; Armstrong, Knight, Mulrooney, Starbuck, Peck, DeMay and Hildreth substitutes.
